

Things are going good, got my reverb and delay pedal done, but I have to figure out everything I have to connect for the delay pedal to work. Right now whenever I turn it on it just cuts the signal, so I think I have to make sure I'm properly disconnecting and reconnecting each thing on it the right way. Other than that I just need to add sliders to control it and then I'm done.

I think I'm gonna be focusing on the UI side after I get those bugs fixed
